

Literature & Composition “B” Level Reading List

A Letter to Students

Students in B-level classes required to read over the summer. You may read anything you'd like, including magazines, as long as you read a minimum of 100 pages.

If you need some suggestions for good reads, the list provided has some of the books we like.

You are welcome to choose a book that is not on the list, but please keep it age and grade level appropriate.

We hope you enjoy your summer reading.

*Regards,
The Literature &
Composition Department*

*Please note that the asterisked titles may be available on film. Be aware that many films are drastically different from the novel, or may leave out, create, or change details. In addition, the film very seldom reflects the style of the novel. Therefore, be sure that you are prepared to be assessed on the written text of the novel, NOT the film version.

A Child Called It

A Man Named Dave
Ella Enchanted
A Night to Remember
Something for Joey
Brian's Song
- Any of the Artemis Fowl series
- Any book by Vivian Van de Velde
- Any of the Gregor the Overlander series
- Any of the Alex Rider Adventure series

10th Grade

A Single Shard

Death Watch

Any Lois Duncan

Any Sarah Dessen

Sisterhood of the Traveling Pants

Any Walter Dean Myers

11th Grade

Any Tony Hillerman

Any Barbara Kingsolver

Any Anne Rinaldi

Where the Heart Is

Killer Angels

Monster: The Autobiography of an LA Gang Member

Always Running: Lovita Loca: Gang Days in LA

12th Grade

Any Nick Hornby

The Beach

Baby Blues

Any Neil Gaiman

A Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night